Dear All

I would like to assure you the money I made after making and selling buco pandam juice was real money and the people who bought the juice were very amazed by the juice. As the saying 'sharing is caring' implies, I have made it my mission to bring the power of creativity to the world.

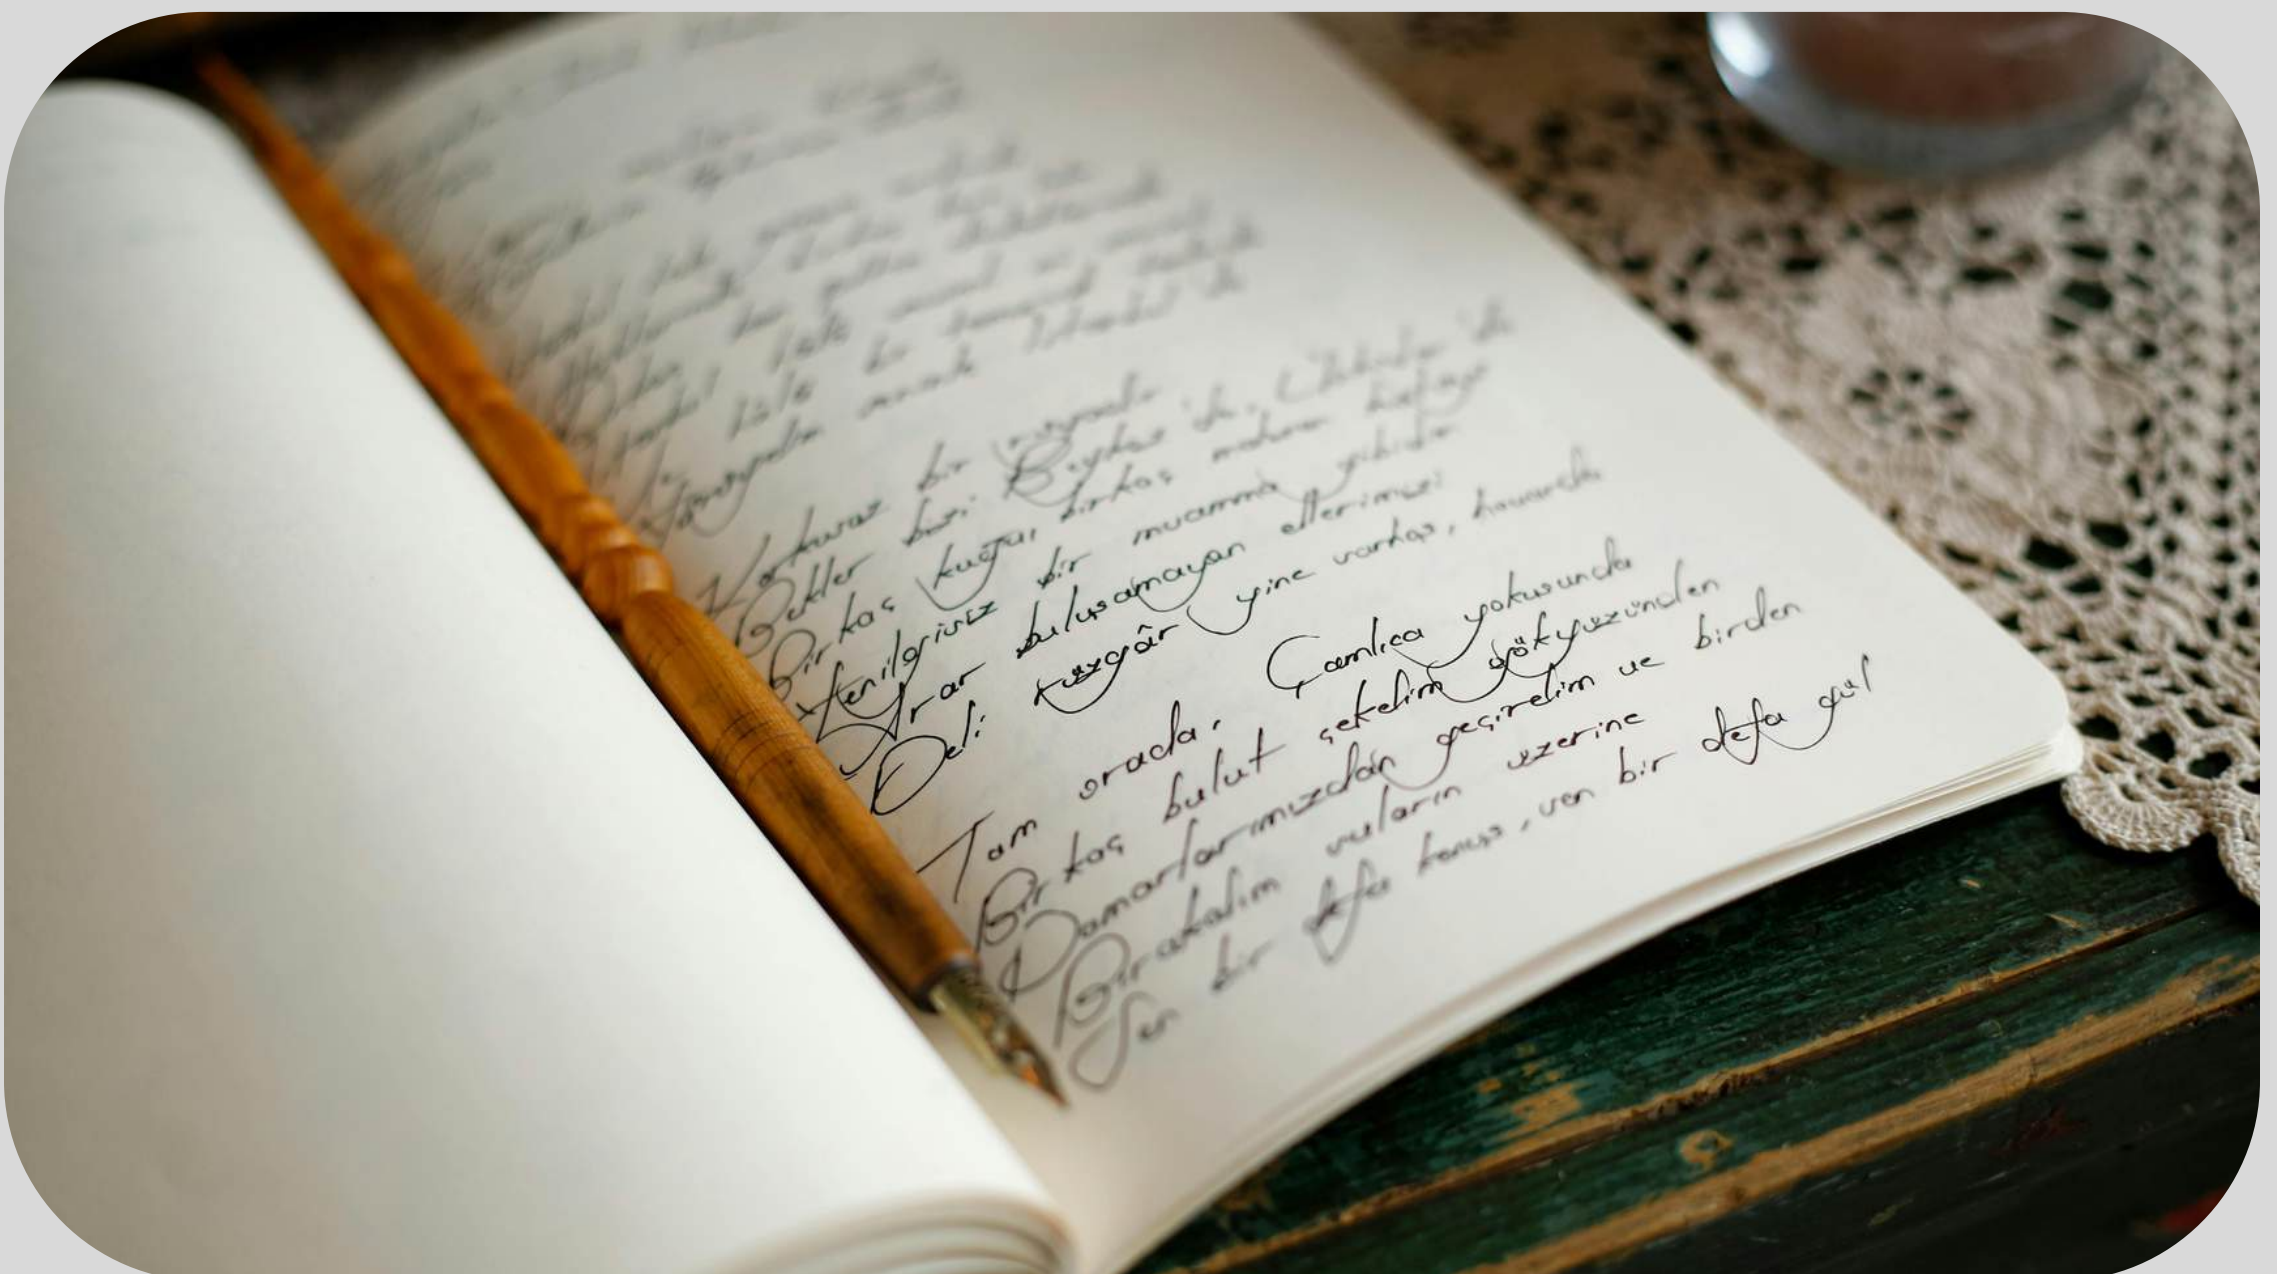

How to use the Creative Daily:

1. 5 minutes only. If it takes longer, you're overthinking.
2. SHIP IT. No screenshot of action = rep didn't happen.
3. Comment DONE. Reply DONE in the group to unlock tomorrow's page. We train together.
4. Each One Teach One. When you make $20, help one person start Day #1.

This is free because I wish someone had handed me this when I was selling juice. Don't hoard it. Forward it to the friend who's still angry at water. Your pandan juice moment is today. Do the rep. Post the proof. Change your story.

Ship it

Saying "Real artists ship." — Steve Jobs

Steve Jobs of blessed memory is remembered for shipping the machintosh, i-phone,ipad and iphone. These products he launched are his art . Not those he did not ship. Like wise creatives are expected to ship something in order to be real artists.

By not shipping you disqualify yourself from being a real artist. Many people have the most brilliant ideas there is, and very well spoken. The ones who manage to ship something overaly get better result than those with the idea.

Fear not

Saying

“Everything you’ve ever wanted is sitting on the other side of fear.” — George Addair

The legacy of many creatives today was capped by their fear to go after what they want. I was asked a question by someone that caught my attention. What is the main difference between successful and unsuccessful creatives. I had a very long answer but for the sake of time I gave a 1 word answer. I answered and said fear.

Through courage a few creative manage to ship art that expresses difficult sentences to the market. The market takes such pieces as staple food and adopts them raising the creative beyond their imagination. This happens beyond the ceiling of fear.

Begin doing

Saying “The way to get started is to quit talking and begin doing”
– Walt Disney

There is a way to get ahead for those creative that require to actually do it. Walt Disney states it clearly that getting started is the way to getting started. When you want to go to buy bread without knowing where the store is, you need someone who will show you the way even though you have the money. Like wise when wanting to get ahead as a creative you will find it easier to get there with the help of someone who knows the way.

The few creatives who capture the market understand the power of small deeds. In simple words doing small deeds is the easiest way to getting ahead. In contrast doing great deeds is the hardest way to getting ahead. Doing small deeds makes life easier for the creative in the long run.

Strike till hot

Saying

“Do not wait to strike till the iron is hot; but make it hot by striking.”– William Butler Yeats

Many creative want to capture the market by waiting for a perfect time to ship. The market rarely presents such opportunities. Many businesses today ship what they have and make improvements and ship again. This momentum allows them to have a better product and create demand in the market for their products.

When market opportunity presents itself the waiting creative misses it by going in market blindly without the relationships and feedback necessary to capture the market skillfully. By shifting going on a constant feedback loop the creative understands their art better and what the market requires from them to improve or remove.

Assignment: Research the top 5 best selling products from fortune 500 companies, how long they take on average to release a new model and why they take that long. Carry it

Saying

“It’s not the load that breaks you down, it’s the way you carry it.”– Lou Holtz

When you are creating your masterpiece, you have a burden upon you. The only reason why many creatives are broken by the burden is the way they carry the burden. You cannot carry your burden when it is breaking you. It is important for every creative to carry their burden skillfully.

My creatives spend most of their time trying to be part of the herd. They do this by following trends and patterns that other people show. Dr Zuess asks an important question for the creative today. Why fit in when you were born to stand out. It is a birthright to stand out for every creative !

The result of fitting in is poor growth and no recognition for the creative but why do they want to fit in so much? How to make money by Being curious

Live the Royal Life: I am what I choose

Saying

"I am not what happened to me. I am what I choose to become"
- Carl Jung

The number 1 reason creatives fail to rise is the level of their systems. Your past is the foundation on which you build not who you are. Every time you put $20 in your pocket before you sleep you wake up with $20 like someone gave you. Your past is the same thing it is a gift you give yourself to make something better of yourself tomorrow.

Every artist has the task to make sure that every day they are making a bigger deposit into their growth and society. The best way to do this is through systems. Creatives have the task to put in place systems that guarantee that when they go to sleep they have made a bigger deposit into tomorrow than they did yesterday. It is very easy and simple to do through systems.

How to earn your first royalty check: Done

Saying

“Done is better than perfect.” – Sheryl Sandberg

When you see creative people in the middle of a project. They usually have pressure to make the art perfect. They usually miss the fact that the small progress they have done is better than a perfect piece that has never been done. This is a very important point to note

Elon Musk once presented a proposal to put the USA under solar power , he provided all the costs and timelines of the project. Was it perfect? I have reason to believe that his proposal was not perfect but the fact that it was done is very remarkable. As creator we are constantly required to get things done not considering perfection that much.

Assignment: Research the 5 most costly discontinued pre launch projects by fortune 500 companies and 3 key reasons for cancellation. Write a strategy to ensure a 1 of them is successfully relaunched. Take screenshots , comment done. Good luck.

Affirmation: I get things done regardless they are perfect or not. I understand the market I serve and I will ship today regardless of perfection.

Earn Passive Income As Creator: Great Artists

Saying

“Good artists copy. Great artists steal.” – Pablo Picasso

The difference between a good artist and a great artist is in the depth of their actions. When a creative is good they find inspiration when they see others art . When a creative is great they grasp every aspect of others art . The great artist sips every creative juice such that others can claim their art was stolen when they see the creative making something derived from their art. That is what makes them great.

When Steve Jobs shipped the first touch screen mobile phone , there were people who could not wait to sue him claiming it was their idea. Same thing happened when Bill Gates shipped the first operating system. They even went to courts to claim their idea. But that stolen idea was what made them great .

Assignment: Identify 5 ideas fortune 500 companies are accused of stealing and 3 key claims to the law suit. Develop a 5 point strategy to ensure 1 of the products wins any law suit regarding theft of concept. Take screenshots and comment Done. Good luck.

Affirmation: I am a great artist because of the depth of my work. I am not passive about the art available in the market. I graft every aspect of how the art is and that makes me great. I begin today.

How to earn your first income: Hear!

Saying

“The quieter you become, the more you can hear.” – Ram Dass

Creatives have the duty to ship something the market embraces. When a product is embraced by the market it usually is not a mistake. When the artist reduces talking and starts listening to they produce different art. They ship something the market is asking for instead of something they think the market will like.

The goal of a factory is to ship something the customer likes. At Post war Toyota they eliminated defects by looking at the process and fixing the cause of customer complaints through a continuous feedback loop. This strategy along with Kaizen which is the concept of improving 1 small thing every day changed Toyota to a global disrupter through listening to clients and fixing their processes continuously they improved drastically.

Assignment: Research 5 companies that are known for top quality customer satisfaction and find 3 key aspects responsible for the success. Develop a 5 point strategy to improve the customer satisfaction for any company lagging in the space. Take screenshots and comment done.

Affirmation: Everything I ship sells like hot cakes. I am a different creative because my art is a process not a product. I improve everyday beginning today!

Earn Passive Income For Artists: No limit

Saying

“The only limit is your imagination.” – Anonymous

I was with my brother in Los Angeles when Rick Ross stopped his convoy at the hotel we were. Everyone that came out of the cars had real diamonds hanging off their necks. This is a man who started his creative career singing about being a rich and famous gangster when he was a police officer no one knew about. He was asked how he got from a fake gangster to owning a jet and he said that he got his break and never looked back.

As creatives everyday we have the chance to dream big and be bold to do it. The creative rarely imagines the height to which his art can take him. Rick Ross as a fake gangster dreamt too small compared to the reality he is living today. He was bold however and went for it.

Assignment: Research the 5 top content creators among Fortune 500 CEOs and 3 key differences from them and non content creators. Develop a 5 point strategy to grow your brand to be greater than the top content creators. Take screenshots and comment done. Good Luck.

Creative Business Strategy: Find Yourself

“Start copying what you love. Copy copy copy copy. At the end of the copy, you will find yourself.” – Yohji Yamamoto

Creative people are people that go into the market to steal concept and make something better. When a creative has stolen long enough they see what they like that way they find themselves. It is very acceptable to steal ideas.

An artist called Kanye West is renowned for introducing ideas to the world that are intriguing. From his fashion designs to music videos and lyrics he is remarkably different. The question is are his ideas original to him or his genius is hidden in concealing the sources of his ideas.

Stop being broke, Start today for the Future

Saying “The future depends on what you do today.” – Mahatma Gandhi

As creatives our society at large relies on our narrative of events. Every project shipped has the potential to have a rippling effect of impact on the future of society. Many creative do not realize they have such authority. The power to shape the future is not recognized by the creative yet they have it.

When the future arrives it will be a few creatives who shaped it whether it is bad or good. Mohammed Ali was known for his boxing style that shaped the future of the game. He danced in the ring for 7 rounds straight until the opponent was tired of throwing punches then he would ponder the used up fore. He was unbeatable and his style was the model for a long time.

Assignment: Research the 5 athletes with most Olympic gold medals and key attributes that are common among them. Develop a strategy to ensure products shipped by your line are winning products.

Affirmation: I have impact on the future of society. I produce model art that is unbeatable. I will ship product that impact the the future positively today.

How to make money because You Are Good

Saying “Whatever you are, be a good one.” – Abraham Lincoln

Someone once asked me a question and said why is it that his art never captured the market. I asked him whether his art was the best in the market , he said yes and I ask whether his marketing was the best in the market he said no. I said right there , that's why you are not capturing the market. He was a good creative but bad marketer and it showed in his results. He had good art but failed to capture the market.

When you are a creative determined to dominate the market it is important to do whatever you have to do regardless. If the creative caught fire and started burning, wouldnt people gather to watch them? When people are not gathering to watch your are it is not on fire. When you make it a point to use whatever you can to make sure you ship art that will gain traction and momentum you will get a better entrance into the market. Most creatives dont act on this but rather expect to capture the market unexpectedly and feel like a genius when they are subbotadging their chances of success.

Assignment: Research top 5 products from fortune 500 companies that have shown great prelaunch demand and 3 key causes of the demand. Describe how you would launch a product to ensure great prelaunch demand.

Affirmation: I am good creator because I captivate the market every time I ship. I am not a mistake but I do whatever I can to ensure I ship the new staple food of the market. I begin today.
