About the Creative Daily

Welcome note

Hello there, warm welcome to Creative Daily. In this booklet you will receive a daily dose of fun and exciting creativity training and exercises carefully curated to help you exercise the creative muscle to start generating ideas that make money. I wish you a fun adventure as you realize a creative edge through the booklet. The Creative Daily is currently distributed to more than 100+ creatives in Dubai! Congratulations, you are now a part of a different community changing the world.

Our History

One day Stupid Orange founder got tired of drinking water so he went to the kitchen, mixed Boco pandan essence with sugar and ice only to get a very delicious drink he liked. This gave him confidence to sell a few cups of the drink for money to go for interviews. Those who drank liked the drink too. Today he is helping people to start making money with creativity !

Mission and Vision

Vision : A world where creativity leads.

Mission : To help people start making money with creativity

Stupid Orange Creative Daily Timeline

Author' Note

Dear All

I would like to assure you the money I made after making and selling buco pandam juice was real money and the people who bought the juice were very amazed by the juice. As the saying 'sharing is caring' implies, I have made it my mission to bring the power of creativity to the world.

How to use the Creative Daily:

1. 5 minutes only. If it takes longer, you're overthinking.
2. SHIP IT. No screenshot of action = rep didn't happen.
3. Comment DONE. Reply DONE in the group to unlock tomorrow's page. We train together.
4. Each One Teach One. When you make $20, help one person start Day #1.

This is free because I wish someone had handed me this when I was selling juice. Don't hoard it. Forward it to the friend who's still angry at water. Your pandan juice moment is today. Do the rep. Post the proof. Change your story.

Would you start over from beginning?

Saying

""Every moment is a fresh beginning." – T.S. Eliot."

When I was in still in primary school they gave us final examinations every year completed. Come the following year , we would enter a new grade and beginning different curriculum. The knowledge and experience from previous year could not get you a pass mark, even the teachers who taught subjects changed, in favour of more strict and feared ones, in the new grade so we treated it like a new beginning. It was so exciting.

As an Artist every moment is a new beginning altogether, the Steve Jobs who invented the Macintosh was not the same guy who invented the ipod. The steve jobs who invented the macintosh had 1 Angel Investor whereas the investor of the ipod had a public traded company to run. He was in a different environment altogether. Artists have the chance to have a new beginning all the time and it is important to make every moment good.

Identifying that there is not one moment in your career that is more important than the other changes the trajectory of an artist. When you make your first art , it is very important , when you are in the middle of your career it is also very important as well as how you do your last art is also very important.

Assignment: Research the top 5 fortune 500 companies that have managed to reinvent themselves after initial success noting 3 key points from each. Develop a strategy to ensure a product you are developing easy to reinvent further.

Affirmation: I am very attentive to how I spend every moment because I know it is a new beginning. I will treat every moment with the importance it has beginning today.

Where can you find good opportunities?

Saying

"In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity." – Seneca

The Chinese language there is no word that says 'problem' even though they have the longest alphabet. The closest they have to this is the word 'opportunity'. When the Chinese see a problem they do not have a word for that, they can only say opportunity, isn't that powerful?

When creatives are faced with the a problems very few identify that as an opportunity. The opportunity riddled in every problem can only elavate the one who sees it as it is, an opportunity. When I did not have money to buy juice and even go for interviews the only way to get these desires was with the money. I simply had to make some money .

Assignment: What unique problems were solved by any 5 fortune 500 companies and identify any 3 key challenges they faced while solving the problem. Develop a strategy to effectively solve any 1 problem you have dentified. Take screenshots and comment done when finished.

Affirmation: I see problems the way the really are. They are my opportunities. I will look for the path to my goal through the obstacles because they make me have a clearer path . I do not have any problems but opportunties starting today!

What are you seeing ?

Saying

"We do not see things as they are. We see them as we are." – Anaïs Nin

When there is an outbreak of a disease some people see it as a pandemic and look at the officials for the smooth resolution, others see it as the act of the capitalists who might harm innocent people for profits and become cautious about any instructions that might be against their best interest. Others are happy during outbreaks that's because they own shares in medical companies. All these people see the same outbreak as who they are, patriotic, paranoid, or capitalists.

As artists the things we create usually are a sum total of who we are. The boldness of emptying out and expressing yourself is not easy making some people take the shoes of others to create. It is not up to me to say wearing your own shoes is right but the point I am driving home here is that even if you wear someone else's shoes, you will mostly create something that is a reflection of the you that you are hiding.

Assignment: Identify any 5 leaders of a Fortune 500 company who were under the shadow of a pioneer leader and identify any 3 key benefits of their own uniqueness that drove business growth in their leadership. Take screenshots, comment Done and Good luck.

Respect Freedom

Saying

"For to be free is not merely to cast off one's chains, but to live in a way that respects the freedom of others." – Nelson Mandela

Creativity without freedom is propaganda. Every creative has to publish their work at one point. The freedom to publish a narrative that is up to you is a collective responsibility of every artist. We cannot ask to have a voice while not helping the next person have the freedom to express themselves.

A popular artist called Drake in one of his albums called out a prominent artist called DJ Khaled for being silent about a sensitive situation in Palestine. This was how he felt that Khaled should have said something but does this respect Khaled's freedom of expression? I do not think so..

What you need to do with delay.

Saying

"You may delay, but time will not." – Benjamin Franklin

The number one reason creatives do not get to where they are supposed to be delay. It is very cunning in that it assures you that you can make that next step but just have to wait for such and such to happen. Many creatives are masters of delay, they may have loads of unfinished projects, all being delayed.

Delay is very easy to do that is why many have mastered it . The point many miss is that delay guarantees failure more than success because it locks resources in unproductive deadlock. But time does not wait for delay, it will keep on ticking. The opportunities lost during delays are all long gone.

Assignment: Research the 5 most devastating delays prior the release of a product by any fortune 500 companies and any 3 key effects of the delays. Develop a strategy to ensure a product you are developing is not delayed.

What really am I?

Saying "What you are will show in what you do." – Thomas Edison

Elon Musk was given a very generous package just to make him stay as CEO of space X, a company he started. They did not pay him because he started the company, that is not how boardrooms operate, they paid him because of who he was. He was a guy running 4 companies giving the 1 week each where he would be on the ground with the engineers and solving the biggest current problems. They wanted to be 1 of those 4 companies period.

Creatives have the opportunity to be more than what they create but be better human beings for their loved ones, community and nations at large. The beauty of this is that it shows in what you do. You cannot be passive about it, a slow person has slow results, you cannot expect otherwise. It takes the same energy to be lazy as it takes to be productive, they all eat lunch same time and sleep same time lazy or productive, but it gives different results.

How do good creatives use their time?

Saying

"Time is what we want most, but what we use worst."
— William Penn

There was a time when I stopped marketing my products on certain platforms. I refused to be the guy who posts his creativity in other people's whatsapp groups. That could not be me my work was bigger than that. I used to look for links to groups so I can post my art and soon as I posted the admin would kick me out. I said this is not the best use of my time at all. I started my own group and grew members so fast whatsapp sent me a message saying they want a call with me. They had to call without my concern when I opened the second whatsapp group.

The time most creative spends doing stupid stuff is the majority of all their time. Very little time is left to be used wisely and that is very sad. The future is like a calf who when fed properly looks healthy and vice versa when fed poorly. Had I continued posting in other people's whatsapp groups I would have been blocked in all the groups, and change my number to continue posting.

As a creative your big break is already there today you just have to take it and run with it. Thomas Edison took a hacker project and made it commercialy viable. There is nothing genius about that, the same thing has been done over and over and proven to work. What is success ?

Saying

"Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts." – Winston Churchill

I have faced a lot of obstacles in my creative journey but one stands out. The people who have approached me to encourage me to stop doing what I am doing because they have seen people do it and failed. I have been approached by a musician who said my songs were not fit for the radio and would never go anywhere. I knew that any DJ who came across my song and played it on air would have an earthquake in the studio so I named my music the kind of names they would play but never changed the contents. I almost quit but now DJ's want my music on their list.

Before an artist releases their first album, they should have mixtapes that are almost studio versions to give a sample of their sound not only to producers but to future fans who will want to know what the artist is about. Given that an artist is discouraged by the fact that people are not listening to their mixtape, it doesn't mean they should stop making music.

How to hack Excellence.

Saying "We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit." – Aristotle

Early Greek philosophers were on a quest to find answers to the deeper questions of our reality. Aristotle played a significant part in this unveiling of deep questions of our reality. His writings shed light to a lot of field of study with remarkable contribution to biology literature. He attribute excellence with habits saying that it is not an act, but a habitual phenomina. This was 300+ BC when this fact about excellence was uncovered by a remarkable philosopher.

In the creative journey I peruze we are not an exception. Excellence is closely tied to the habits of the creative. When I hear about the way high performing creatives work I usually take note, I know that is where their excellence is tied, their habits. Is having Good Taste bad for creatives?

Saying "The chief enemy of creativity is good taste." – Pablo Picasso

When Donuld Trump visited China in the airforce 1, he went with a delagation of Billionares and Fortune 500 Ceo's. But among them was a sign language translator who did not understand chinese. They had to did not realize it until a week after the visit. It is yet to be discovered what he was saying on behalf of the chinese. I hope he was telling funny stories.

There are things that happen all around us that could be sources of great inspiration to make great art. Many creatives have numb creativity by having a good taste. The romanticise their art losing the essence of their personal touch because romantic means you seem roman. People will pamper you for conforming to the look they see because that is average and they want you to be like that. Creative have the chance to chose to be unique and make something great.

I Surrender

Saying

"The creative process is a process of surrender, not control."
– Julia Cameron

When I was buying pieces from sculptors, among other things they would make woden scultures of rare wild animals. When you see them unexpectedly around the corner expect to have a very frightening moment. The creators of these sculture rarely have the intention to scare people but beautify a space, the scary moment is a bonus. When one surrenders to the creative process the outcome is wonders even they themselves do not expect. Coca cola tried to rebrand to another name only to get riots from fans who had memories with their product.

Every creative has the potencntial to make something other people would love by surrendering and trusting their own heart and intuitoin to take the lead in the creative process. We try to put rules and methods , which is ok but the rules are a boundery. Outside the rules lies creative gold mines that just need to get tapped into. What you should know, Great Work.

Saying

"The moment you think you understand a great work of art, it's dead for you." – Oscar Wilde

The loudest sound that was heard on Earth was from an earth quake. The sound was from the Krakatoa volcano in Indonesia but those in Africa heard it across the ocean. The scientists watching our volcanoes do not have everything about the situation figured out they did not see the loudest sound ever coming.

There is a dilemma of creative people trying to understand art too much. The more you know the less you can do creatively is the sad truth. It takes a different kind of tenacity for a man to create great art. How did Steve Jobs create the Macintosh. He saw a computer he did not know much about and decided it has to be in people's houses. What made him come to those assumptions was lack of knowledge and ignorance, no genius would do that rationally especially at the cost of leaving school.

Still Sitting While Your Ideas Run Away?

Saying

"Creativity doesn't wait for confidence. It runs ahead and hopes you'll catch up." – Twyla Tharp

One thing people don't understand about creativity is that it is a setup specifically designed to get you embarrassed at a certain point. Twyla Tharp (84) an American dancer/author says that creativity goes ahead of confidence implying that the ideas will come but you will have creative blocks still there. It is a paradox of creativity to be constantly in the face of fear but why should any creative let that bring them down.

Waiting for confidence as a creative is a losing game because the idea is already there and why hold back from the world the beauty of creativity because of creative blocks. You have to constantly pick yourself up and catch up with the your own creative self. Usually the ideas will run away when not express in dew time because of creative blocks.

If You Are Not Embarrassed By What You Made Last Month, You Wasted It.

Saying

"If you're not embarrassed by what you made last month, you haven't grown." – Ira Glass

When your art doesn't resemble any progress from month to month, year to year, decade to decade, you are what we call a middle class artist. I was in this category a very long time when you would leave me in one place and come back a year later I will be still there. I remember at one point I said enough so started sculpture business, I knew I was not going to be curving rocks on some bench somewhere but I was going to buy the ones already finished. I flew big stones on airplanes because I had grown as a creative to a point of global recognition for stones I bought, I called it the Stupid Collection.

The fact that you are proud of your past work says something about you. It implies that you have not grown since you did that project and do not have anything to contribute towards your own growth. That is what many creative are doing today, you will see someone with so much talent referencing a point in their career they regard as the peak and just living as a shadow of that moment. Isn't that sad for a very talented person to be a shadow of their own past. That could never be me.

Shut up. You haven't earned an opinion.

Saying "The critic in your head has never made anything. Ignore them."
– Chuck Close

There has never been a time in history when more data is being generated than this day and age with an estimate of more data than the equivalent of all the data from the 1800's being generated in 1 day. With all this data available meaning seems to be disappearing altogether which seems to defeat the purpose of generating the data at the first place. When I brought out the idea that scientists who watch volcanos have no idea what they are doing I was flooded with criticism over what I consider a fact.

I see creatives who take people like that too seriously. Critics will always attack you for bringing out ideas that they were looking at but went right past their faces. Me I have facts , how many times do earth quakes strike without any early warning systems triggered whereas missile which travel faster than most earth quakes get detected. Make garbage. Seriously.

"Show up. Make garbage. Keep the scraps. Eventually, the garbage turns gold." – Brian Eno

I bought my first house when I was 16. The house had to be kept a secret because noone in Zimbabwe at the time would have believed that a teenager can buy a 2 stories house in a suburb from an online community called Zimdancers. I see many people claim to be best selling of this and that, me I have told myself I will be doing the buying of whatever they are selling and now I am broke because I have been doing some shopping.

Currently creatives give each other esteem for selling which makes sense. That is not how money works, money looks like garbage until you need the garbage and realize that it is the real gold. The art you create sell it but make sure you keep something in your hand that is worth nothing now but everything later. What garbage are you creating that could turn to gold is the question.

"The only way to make sense out of change is to plunge into it, move with it, and join the dance." – Alan Watts

I recently recieved an email from my mentor Simon in the dream mail, with the headline 'I lost all my friends'. In it he narrated how the changes in the lives of his childhood friends caused them to go start going different places, like in this case his friends started drinking at the pud on Fridays and he did not like to drink, leading to less and less time together, until Friday calls ended up as anual birthday calls.

Simon had to let go of the easy nights he could have had with his friends, these are the people he grew up with and that was not an easy choice. He had to make a choice to let go, I think he was very brave. It is what every creative is faced with every day. We all have to make a choice between being good and being great howhever many choose to be good because being great is a very lonely road. It does not happen in a distant location somewhere where you see an apple falling from a tree but realizing that every choice you are making right now has to be great.

Assignment: Research any 5 Fortune 500 Ceo who had to let go of products or practices that were good, and persued those that were great. State any 3 key take aways from the pivot and develop a strategy to ensure that a product you are developing is not good but in fact great.

Affirmation: I am going to change into a great artist because I chose to pivot that direction. Change is going to happen anyway and I am going to direct the change in my life torwards greatness beginning today.

Dont make this mistake.

Saying

"The greatest mistake you can make in life is to be continually fearing you will make one." – Elbert Hubbard

The greatest mistake you can make as a creative is to try to be accepted by people to the extent of conforming. This mistake makes creatives seek being good in the eyes of people. When you are good in their eyes remember that you are disqualified from great creativity but very qualified for common creativity.

Albert Einstein's secret as a prophet was that he was not conforming to what the other prophets were doing. He said it plainly that he discovered gravity when an apple fell on his head under the tree. If you think that an apple literally fell on his head you are just like me, very stupid. The tree he was referencing is literature from other scholars and the apple was clarity. Instead of looking like a genius Mr Einstein managed to do was translate to stupid people like you and me what prophets were keeping in cipher in the tree, which is the body of knowledge into the apple which is his clear research papers.

Assignment: Research any 5 fortune 500 companies that managed to bring a good product that was not commercially viable and made it commercially viable. State any 3 key take aways from the success of each product commercialisation. Take screenshots and comment done. Good Luck

Affirmation: I do not conform to what other creatives are doing neither do I seek to be good in their eyes. I have the mark of a great creative, I speak differently and walk differently because that qualifies me to be a great creative.

What is the source of Knowledge?

Saying

"The only source of knowledge is experience."

— Albert Einstein

The only source of knowledge of experience but when you look at great creatives there is something that is different about their experience. They do not learn from experiences they had themselves but rather use other people's experiences. Looking at Aristotle the famous philosopher, in his time you had to come from a rich family to learn to read and write but he was mentored by Plato who shaped a lot of his early ideas even though he later departed from Plato's teachings. Aristotle himself mentored Alexander The Great and many others.

As we can see in this part of greatness is that the repetition of great ideation from Plato, Aristotle to Alexander the Great made greatness a mere habit among the subscribers to this particular school of thought. When someone saw Alexander the Great taking over they would have attributed it to luck but his father had secured him mentorship in a school of greatness and it was knowledge he possessed.

Assignment: Research any 5 institutions accredited for producing the most Fortune 500 companies historically and currently. and 3 key factors behind these numbers and changes in the historical contributors. Take screenshots and comment done.

Affirmation: I possess knowledge beyond my own understanding from my experience and the school of thought I subscribe to. It is not luck when I take over, it is the enactment of knowledge I possess.

What a problem really is.

Saying

"A problem is a chance for you to do your best." –
Duke Ellington

A problem is a chance to do your best. When Duke Ellington was boxed into the category of blues jazz as a teenage musician, he saw it as an opportunity to improve his music. He went beyond the category and created a catalogue of songs that are currently the largest recorded personal jazz catalogue. He was awarded a posthumous Pulitzer Prize Special Award for music in 1999.

As creatives we are constantly faced with the many difficulties. Had Duke Ellington been discouraged by the categorization of music he would not have been such an influential figure in Jazz. It was only in that problem that he actually created such a vast catalogue of songs.

Assignment: Research any 5 Fortune 500 CEOs that have solved global problems through their products or services and 3 key points to note in the way they identified the problem, solved it, and further issues to be addressed. Develop a strategy to ensure that a product you are developing solves a global problem effectively.

Affirmation: I see problems as a chance to do my best. Never will I see a problem as discouragement. I know there is a reward for overcoming problems and that is what I seek. I will begin today.

What is the best way to revenge?

Saying

"The best revenge is massive success."
– Frank Sinatra

When your closest friends do not accept your art and the people you intended to make it for do not support you, as a creative there is no need to be sad. People by default have a herd mentality and without seeing other people accepting your art they will default to saying no. Just be successful and all the people who are rejecting your art will reconsider.

Success is not given it is achieved, Kobe Briant of blessed memory practised 3 times a day,unlike others who did 1 time. At first he became noticably better until he became out of the league entirely. Trying to train 3 times a day to catch up with him obvious wouldnt work because you could not catch up.

Assignment: Identity 5 Fortune 500 companies who were not accepted by their innitial target market but later got adoption of their products. Note 3 key points to note from their success and develop a strategy to ensure that the product you are developing achieves wide spread success regardless of lack of support from primary market.

Affirmation: I am very motivated when my art is not accepted because I am closer to my breakthrough. I will be will be so successful the people who are not supporting me will reconsider. I begin my today.

The Reason to achieve your goal is ?.

Saying "What you get by achieving your goals is not as important as what you become by achieving your goals." – Zig Ziglar

When creatives set goals they are focused on getting what the goals help them achieve. It is amazing and helps you have a motive to pursue your goals but that will not make you great. What makes you great is what your goals help you become. What will you become after you achieve your goals? It is a very good question to ask because

A certain fine man from Africa called Elon Musk solved the question of interstellar civilization by producing technology here on earth that makes it more feasible to colonize other planets. Starlink, Tesla, Space X , The Boring Company ,etc were all successful commercially making Elon Musk the first living Trillionaire, but what he has become is greater. It is now more feasible for humanity to colonize planets because of him. Chinese companies have better and cheaper cars than Tesla but are worth less than tesla because of visionary leadership.

Assignment: Research 5 Fortune 500 companies that started with a mission or a goal that positioned them as leaders in a niche or industry noting 3 key points from the unique positioning of the companies. Develop a strategy to ensure that a product you are developing has an overall long term goal that uniquely positions the company as a visionery leader in the niche.

Affirmation: My strength is in achieving my goals but in what I become! I am not motivated by achievements but transition to a better person.I begin today!

How do you achieve greatness?

Saying

"The man who moves a mountain begins by carrying away small stones." – Confucius

When Elon Musk started speculating about space exploration, he started by accessing the books on the subject from people prominent in the field. He did not start by building a rocket but went to Russia to buy world war 2 war heads as his first rockets. That is how he managed to get where he is today, for $100 000 Space X will give you a ride around earth's orbit. In fact you have to wait for a slot to be available because the shuttles are always fully booked.

When creative want to achieve greatness they usually want to lift heavy things which is a big mistake. The moment you do heavy lifting it ruins your momentum. Rome was not built in a day neither can truly great work be done in a day. Little by little the creative can reach new heights.

Assignment: Research the 5 Fortune 500 CEOs who took a product from ideas to market and take note of 3 important points that attributed to their success out of all the other CEOs who failed.

Affirmation: I am a great creative. Even though I move small stones I carry a momentum that is building up to make me great. I am not worried about those doing heavy lifting because I know that Rome was not built in a day. Little by little I will reach my goal. I am going to do it today.

What is the most important part of work?

Saying

"The beginning is the most important part of the work."
– Plato

Creative people are people that go into the market to steal concept and make something better. When a creative has stolen long enough they see what they like that way they find themselves. It is very acceptable to steal ideas.

An artist called Kanye West is renowned for introducing ideas to the world that are intriguing. From his fashion designs to music videos and lyrics he is remarkably different. The question is are his ideas original to him or his genius is hidden in concealing the sources of his ideas.

Assignment: Research 5 top selling products from Kanye West and key sources of inspiration to the product. Develop a strategy to ensure products in your line have remarkable design.

You have finished for the day.

Saying

"Finish each day and be done with it. You have done what you could." – Ralph Waldo

Before each day ends as creatives we must be happy with ourselves. We have to be celebrating how we have completed the course of another day and most importantly done the best that we could have done! It calls for a celebration each day and begin preparation for another day!

We have to end each day with a celebration of the future we are building. Looking at the tasks completed every day carefully will allow us to be incharge of what the future will look like because the future depends largely on those activities we completed today. Looking at the activities of the day ,and a careful plan for the next day a creative is well equipped to control their future.

Assignment: Research top 5 activities that Fortune 500 Ceos do on a daily basis and the 3 key desired outcomes of each activity. Develop a strategy to ensure you in a project you are working on prioritises similar activities considering available resources to get similar results.

Affirmation: I celebrate the end of each day because I am happy with myself and the progress that I have made. I acknowledge that I have done the best that I could today and plan to do better tomorrow.

What is creativity?

Saying

"Creativity is a wild mind and a disciplined eye." –
Dorothy Parker

Creativity is not what many people think it is, that is why very few master it. Everyone has the ability to be creative but very few have the mastery of creativity. When creativity happens the mind goes wild and generates ideas and patterns puzzling to the eye. Everyone can do this part of creativity however very few have gotten to discipline the eye that monitors creativity. What to look for, what to look at, they do not know this and yes they are creative but they are missing the important details as they all slip through their eyes.

There is a certain type of seeing that certain creatives have which elevates them from having brilliant brush stroke to having iconic careers. What makes man like Nelson Mandela to be known as the symbols of freedom when there were millions of liberation heroes in his era. One day his car broke down and he tried to hike to get home, someone took a video saying people are not helping Madiba and it became a Global concern that certain drivers did not stop to pick up Nelson Mandela.

Assignment: Research any 5 Fortune 500 CEOs that are known for shipping products that show they have a vision that many do not see in the market. Identify any 3 key take aways and Develop a strategy to ensure your vision for a product you are developing is unique and prevails.

Affirmation: I have mastered creativity and I know exactly what to look at. I will ship in alignment with my vision and it will be global concern to help me get there beginning today.
